

Multi-Sensory Learning for Adults

I'm a big fan of multisensory learning. I suspect that the place where people gather around the coffee pot does not have table and chairs and folks are having "stand up" conversations. Is there a place where you could put up posters or create visuals around the Gospel lessons for that Sunday. A picture can activate a thousand words. There are clip art books or services which organise pictures around Bible verses. After a couple weeks of just pictures, then try a small place with comfortable chairs and a discussion leader to continue conversations.
