

RECOGNITION OF SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS

In the spring (Palm Sunday) our church has a potluck at noon for all members of the church. The Sunday School sings a number and then we eat. After eating, the Sunday School teachers and staff are called up and recognized with a special gift, either individually or something for the whole Sunday School to use, such as a video or teachers' books. They are also first in line to eat...not the kids unless part of the teacher's family. It's a great appreciation time for all and teaching is a week after week responsibility that deserves our recognition. Choir director and Vacation Bible School staff could also be included in this. Happy Thanksgiving...
